"When it comes to create urban furniture, I do not only perceive the functional side but also as an element capable of affecting(touching) the emotional of the users.

For that purpose, according to the realizations, I understood how much the symbols bound(connection) to the nature allowed to build a long-lasting(sustainable) harmony between the inhabitant and his environment Material(Equipment).

The candelabra becomes the tree among which fallen fruits, borders, are going to germinate, sheets(leaves) bend to become baskets of cleanliness and the rooted bench spreads(displays) its nervures...

The vegetable kingdom offers me an infinity of compositions, for which the use of the cast iron and the bronze, anchored in our history(story),
